These Are The Memories We Cherish

OF

Top: Chaudoir, the freshman dormitory, brings back memories of dates, teas, and the President's reception.

Center: Our favorite building—the commons—where we eat three meals a day.

Bottom: Conrad Hall changes hands so often that we're never quite sure whether it's a boys' or girls' dormitory.

PLACES THAT WE KNEW

Right: This is our library, where many long hours are spent in serious study.

Below: Elizabeth Hall, the building which symbolizes classes, concerts, chapel and conferences with Deans.

Michaelangelo has nothing on us.

OF INTELLECTS THAT GREW

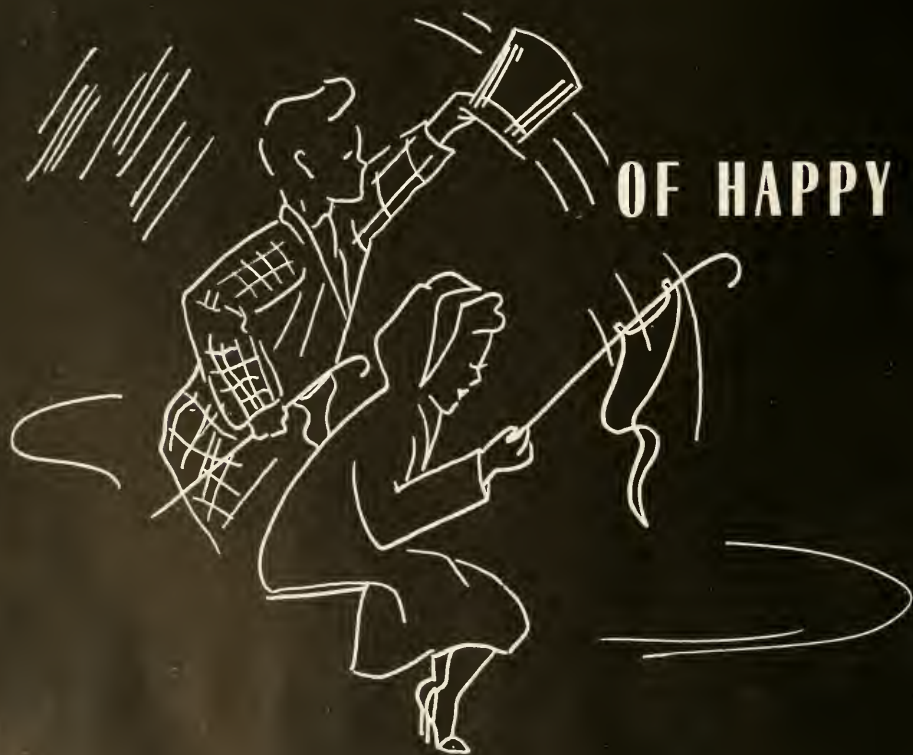

Chivalry is not dead.

Old friends meet . . . and eat.

OF HAPPY HOURS

Our Purpose

This is your book of memories. On these pages we have tried to preserve the experience of a year spent on the Stetson campus. A year filled with unforgettable experiences — the memory of work and of play, classes and exams, afternoons in the library, and clubs and meetings; memories of Sadie Hawkins Day and Homecoming, fraternity parties and dances, special dates and long awaited letters. We have been unable to capture with words and pictures many of the intangible experiences which are a vital part of college — lasting friendships, knowledge acquired, spiritual growth, new hopes and ideals. But it is our sincere hope that in this, your book, the moments special to you have been memorably preserved so that when viewed in years to come these pages will bring back tender memories of your year at Stetson.

DOCTOR
WILLIAM
SIMS ALLEN

The one man that understands the students better than they understand themselves. He has never been too busy to listen to discouraged students and to give advice when it was asked. His friendly smile and pleasant greeting have gained for themselves a place in the hearts of all who know him, and his slogan, "Thus Stetson continues to go forward", has become as well known as the Alma Mater. His memory will long live in the hearts of the Stetson family . . . the memory of our beloved . . .

DR. ALLEN

AN INSTITUTION IS THE LENGTHENED SHADOW OF A MAN.

EMERSON.

The Faculty – our guides and builders of our future. Through exams, term papers and hundreds of lectures, they are there beside us – dejected when we fail, plugging for us when we're on the upgrade. Not so well known as the faculty, but working busily, are the administrators. As stage directors behind the scene, they make sure everything is running smoothly. But, like all good adults, they know when to stop and leave quite a few responsibilities in our hands. For that reason we have our Student Body officers, Woman's Council, and the Law School Honor Court. The intelligent guidance of these leaders trains us to be good students and to become good citizens.

ADMINISTRATION

After the resignation of our president, Dr. Allen, Dean Garwood was appointed Acting President, and Dr. McEniry, Acting Dean. Under their able leadership the University progressed as rapidly as before and with the new year of '48 came a new President, Dr. J. Ollie Edmonds of Jacksonville, a Stetson graduate.

Under the guidance of Dr. Duckwitz, Prof. Furlong, Deans Turner and Davis, the various schools worked together as one university, making "Stetson's Banner Year" a reality.

THE

BARBARA ROWE

THEODORE H. FARR, JR.
Assistant to the President

A great deal of praise is due our administrative officers, for with the increasing number of students their competent services have increased also. Miss Rowe should certainly be commended for the way she and her staff have so ably taken care of the great number of registrations and other duties of this office.

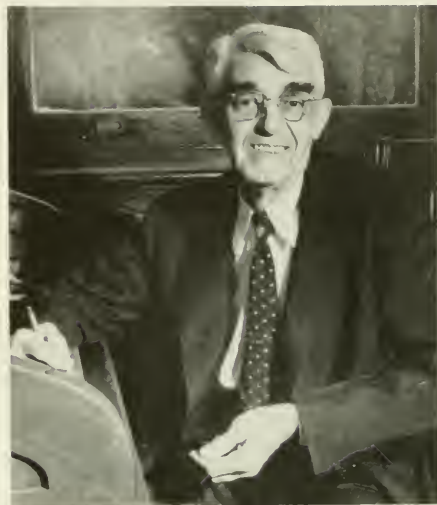

ANDREW C. PRESTON

ADMINISTRATION

Students look with pride and thanks to Mr. Farr, Mr. Preston, Doc Johnson, and Mr. Rosa for their tireless services to the students.

Stetson news has become state- and country-wide as a result of the fine publicity work of Miss Florence Cain and her staff.

Mature, settled, sure of themselves are the law students. Theirs is a campus all to itself. Here in their neat, white building they argue cases, spend busy hours in the library, or just relax over a cup of coffee at the snack bar. Their conscientiousness and hard work are admired by all. Everyone is familiar with that standard phrase, "Sorry, I can't join you this time. Have to brief some cases tonight." But after three years of harder-than-average study comes the reward — that coveted LL.B.

The College of Law of John B. Stetson University is the oldest law school in Florida. For many years the College of Law occupied a portion of Science Hall. Owing to the increased number of students in the college and the increased number of faculty members the College has been moved into the athletic office building at the former Naval Air Station. The Stetson University College of Law is a member of the Association of American Law Schools. It is also approved by the Council of Legal Education of the American Bar Association.

THE STUDENT BAR

The Student Bar Association consists of the entire membership of the Law School. Its purpose is to provide a unified association of students enrolled in the College of Law, with a view toward maintaining a closer relationship among the students of the various classes and between the individual student and administration. The Association endeavors to promote the interests of the students individually and collectively, and to provide a measure of self-government for the members of the law school. It seeks to further develop an atmosphere of cooperation and understanding between students and faculty. The officers of the Student Bar are Douglas Stenstrom, president; Harry Lynn, vice-president; Ralph Baum, secretary; and Dan Murphy, treasurer.

HONOR COURT

The Honor Court has the responsibility of promoting an effective educational campaign against those things which are beneath the dignity of the law and the position which it occupies in our American form of government. The honor Court serves as a court for the trial of infractions and the recommendation of punishment in cases of guilt. The court consists of seven Justices, two of which are from the freshman and junior classes, and three from the senior law classes. The chief justice is elected from the senior justices.

The Honor Court this year is led by Chief Justice Jardine Carter Perkins. Other justices are Hugh F. DuVal, Roger D. Flynn, Phillip R. Kelley, Isham William Adams, D. W. Butler, and Richard C. Gordie.

The International Legal Fraternity of Phi Delta Phi was formally organized on December 13, 1869, at the Gregory House at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan. It was not only the first legal fraternity founded in the United States, but also the first professional fraternity. It has since always remained first, forever endeavoring to promote a higher standard of professional ethics and culture in law schools and in the profession at large.

In the fall of 1946, a group of students at John B. Stetson University under the leadership of J. Carter Perkins banded together for the purpose of securing the installation of an Inn of Phi Delta Phi at Stetson. After almost a year of hard work and endeavor, Stetson's petition was accepted by the National Convention in September of 1947, and on December 5, 1947, the Cordozo Inn of Phi Delta Phi was formally installed at John B. Stetson University.

The Chapman and Thomas Law Clubs, active on this campus before the war, have been reorganized. Under the sponsorship of two distinguished graduates of the College of Law, for whom the clubs have been named, these clubs develop in the members the faculty for oral expression and the skill of legal argumentation. This is fostered by a system of practice and criticism. The Fall quarter work concentrates on individual arguments, while each Winter and Spring quarter competitions between the two clubs are conducted under the direction of the Coordinator to determine the outstanding student lawyers. Winners from the first and second year classes are awarded prizes and suitable certificates of their accomplishment. Winners of the third year class in each club compete on annual "Law Day" by presenting an appellate argument before selected members of the Florida Judiciary sitting as justices of the Supreme Court of John B. Stetson University. Membership is open to all students in the College of Law.

The major part of college seems to consist of hours spent in a classroom full of the world's most uncomfortable seats. Remember that fellow who used to sleep next to you in Eh 101? He really got something out of the course. Or the girl in your sociology class who spent the whole hour every morning combing her hair? There were days you cut one class to cram for a test in another or to go home on Friday afternoon. But regardless of your interests or ambitions, life at college centered around the classroom.

Because of the efforts of Joe, Jake, Lucy and Jean, the Class of '48 will carry with them many memories of wonderful times together.

JUNIOR OFFICERS

EDWARD TALTON	President
MACK CLEVELAND, JR.	Vice-President
JANE WYCOFF	Secretary
LUTIE KEATHLEY	Treasurer

The jaunty juniors, Jean and Joe College, personified. For them no worries over approaching graduation, no fears of ratting. Theirs is the world and all that's in it — or so they think.

The hard way to get a man.

Let's go Dutch, girls.

C. L., Lenora, Martha and Bill capably led the sophomores through a busy and successful year.

How to make the "D List" in one easy lesson.

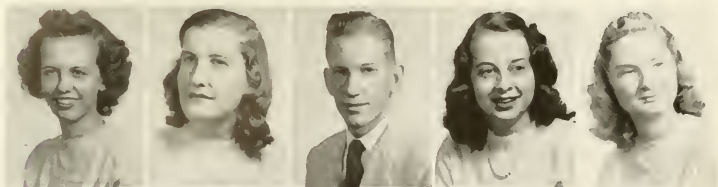

The sophomores, who have been around long enough to think they know it all. Registration and exams hold no terror for them, and theirs is the helpful advice which many a freshman has learned to distrust.

Getting ready for Milligan.

Home was never like this.

You Frosh, poor bewildered beginners, who were pushed unknowingly into anything and everything by the upperclassmen. But remember the thrill you felt the first time you walked across the campus and realized that you were a part of it all? Yours is the future of Stetson to make of it what you will.

Ratting . . . a freshman's nightmare.

The freshman leaders . . . Truman, Frank, Shirla, and Eleanor were responsible for the fine start the Class of '51 made as they began their college career.

Here are the leaders of Stetson, the girls and boys you speak to on the campus, the superlative few who have that little extra something it takes to make the mark. These are the people the freshmen point out to each other in classes during the first week of school. Their achievements, interests, talents, and the fact that they're all-round good fellows have given them a special place in our book.

LUCY EFFINGER was this year's president of the Pan-Hellenic Council. She was also secretary of the Senior Class and of the Honor, and active in sorority work.

FRED DICKINSON, who is prominent in Law School activities, is one of the best known men on the campus. Bud, as he is known to all, made an admirable Student Body president this year, the largest year in Stetson's history.

CHRIS MAGAHA is one of our most outstanding co-eds. Besides being in the Feature Section and Who's Who for two years, Chris was our charming Homecoming Hostess and president of her sorority.

FRED OWEN did a grand job as commander of the National Veterans Association. His efforts along this line as well as in fraternity and Little Theatre fields have made Fred well known to everyone on the campus.

Did you ever try to put out a college paper? C. L. MULLIS has been editor of the Reporter this year and has done a fine job. In addition to his journalistic duties, C. L. is vice-president of the sophomore class and active in fraternity work.

NAN POPPELL is best known on the campus for her tireless efforts in editing this year's HATTER. Nan's taking a pre-med course and is a member of Beta Beta Beta and Gamma Sigma Epsilon, science honoraries.

MAUREEN PETERSON, although a junior, has already distinguished herself in Glee Club work and by being chosen for the Honor and Who's Who. She is president of her sorority and a member of the Blazer Club.

TOM PERRIN has made quite a name for himself during the two years he has been at Stetson. He was an outstanding center on the football team and made an excellent social vice-president of the Student Body.

Anyone who hasn't heard KAY HOOPER sing has a real treat in store . . . just ask any Stetsonite. Kay has been Glee Club soloist, student leader, and assistant director as well as having been in the Feature Section for two years.

JOE SUTTON, a straight A student, still finds time for many extra-curricular activities. He was senior class president and very active in the non-fraternity organization.

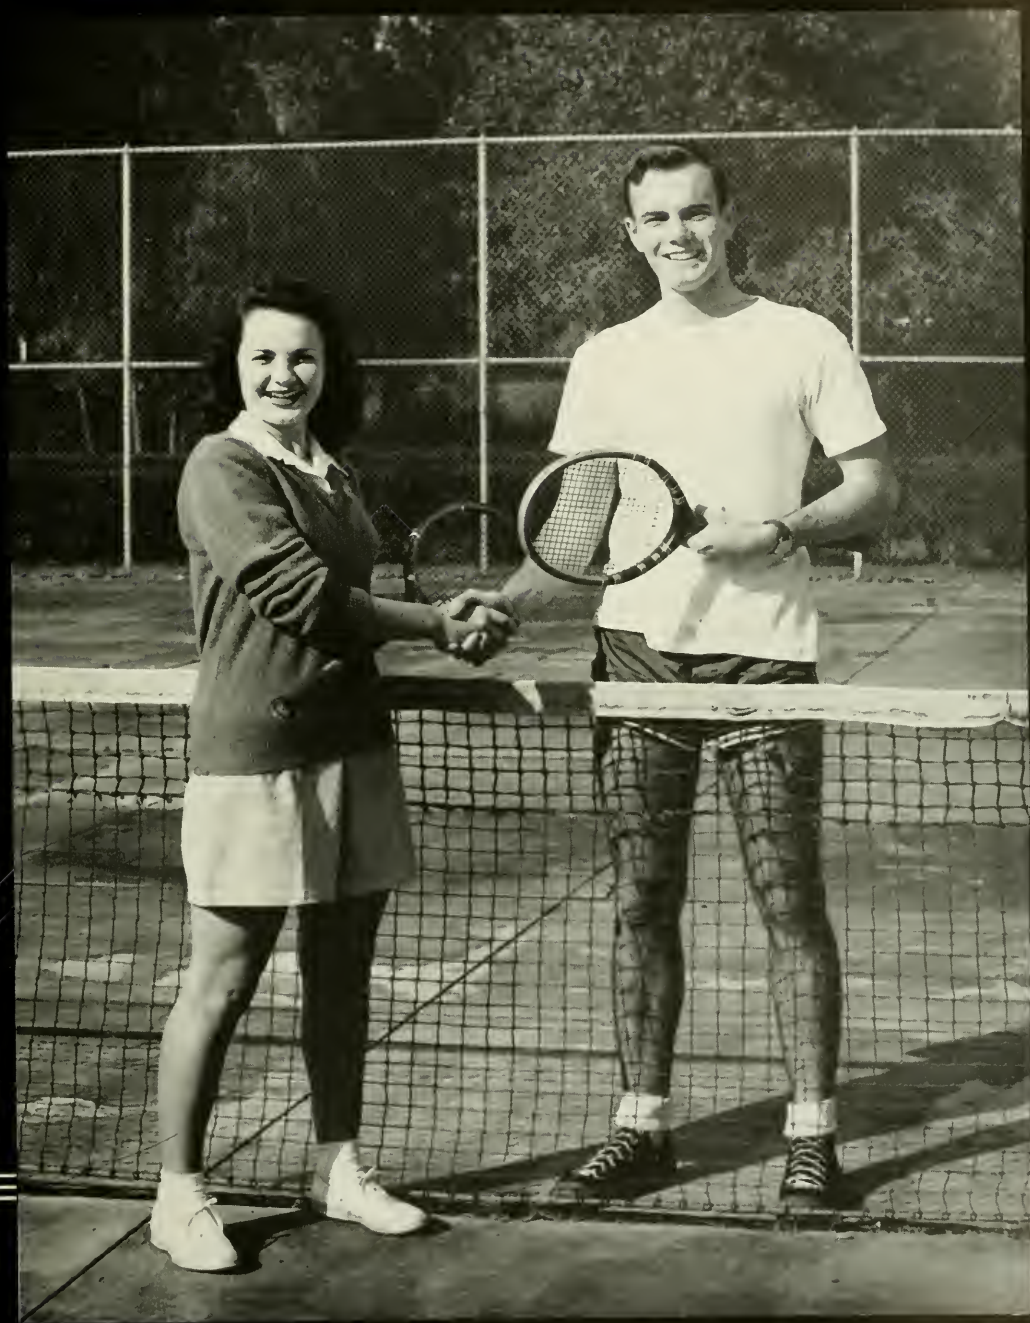

MARGARET BATEMAN can always be found behind the desk in the Chaudoin Hall Council Room every Monday afternoon. She's president of the Women's Council and very active in the BSU.

Outstanding in the Law School is VOLIE WILLIAMS. He's one of our many married veterans who show that home-making and formal education can go together.

Played by a few, but eagerly followed by everyone, sports form an important part of campus life. In the fall, it's football, which brings broken bones and glory to the gallant lads who play, cold noses and hoarse voices to the spectators, and pride and worry to the coaches. During the second quarter everyone eats and sleeps basketball, the hardwood classic which invigorates body and mind. Spring brings baseball with more excitement, new worries, other thrills.

Physical Education and Recreation Department for Women

Embodying the spirit of health, sportsmanship and fellowship, the Women's Physical Education and Recreation Department provides for the physical and social development of young women. Its purpose is to develop the one thing upon which nearly all other aspects of life are dependent—a strong and efficient body. This aim is carried out by participation of students in the following activities: tennis, badminton, archery, fencing, golf, swimming, basketball, volley ball, softball, speedball, tumbling, modern dances, folk dances, square dances, corrective gymnastics and all recreational sports. Besides participation in activity classes there is also an extensive intramural program for all students in the University.

Physical Education Majors

The Stetson

This year we found the Hatters entering their second year of football since the team was discontinued in 1940. Nearly fifty men were on hand for the mid-September practice. Coach Brady Cowell had plenty of good material from which to pick teams. The team had to be reduced to 40 men because of the lack of necessary equipment.

The men worked very hard getting in shape for the big opening game with Jax. Navy. Nearly all of last year's letter men returned this season. The spirit of the team was high all through the season, even though they had some rough games to play.

With Captain George Douglas at the helm, the Big Hatters made a creditable record.

College life would not be complete without extra-curricular activities. Some spring from a desire for service. Others develop from interests in professions or hobbies, and serve to keep ambitions and talents alive. For the lucky few there are the honorary societies. For others the social organizations. Some work hard on publications. Many participate in religious and athletic activities. Fun is had by all at Homecoming and on Sadie Hawkins Day, and everyone enjoys an occasional round table discussion in the grill when classes are out. Activities have a place all their own at Stetson, and every student has a place in the activity of his choice.

THE PRESS CLUB

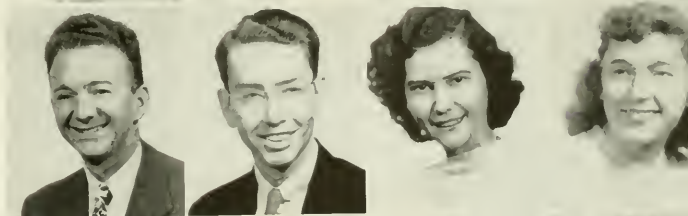

The outstanding staff members of the campus publications, The Reporter, THE HATTER, and The Stetson Quarterly, are united to form the Press Club. The bimonthly meetings are primarily social, although journalistic discussions inevitably arise after the first cup of coffee.

President is Richard Gordie, and other officers include: Beverly Sewell, vice-president; Lucy Effinger, secretary; and C. L. Mullis, treasurer.

Ernestine and Nan discuss plans.

"I resign," screams Lucy Effinger from a far corner of the HATTER office amidst the other frantic, hysterical cries of her colleagues and the constant beating of the typewriters.

"You can't," Editor Nan Poppell yells back, "You did that last week."

The last few days of the quarter, with pictures missing, copy still to be written, and pages to be drawn up, are enough to make any staff member feel like quitting. But, as the show must go on, so the annual must go to press.

Associate Editor Helen Trundle dashes in looking for one of the Panhellenic editors, Butch Wadsworth, Sunny Lanning, or Red Martin.

Flo Gross and her colleagues, Pat Winderweedle, Ann Ward, and Jean Hinsey, are eating layout sheets and extra pictures trying to think of new ideas for the organization section.

The class editors, Chris Magaha, Eloise Lee, Marjorie Beaty, and Fay Tuten, scamper madly around looking up classifications and home towns. Always ready to assist them are Ann Pickens, Sue Fowler, Priscilla Peterson, B. J. McCollum, Charlotte Harris, Joyce Duggan, Marjorie Keen, and Polly Penn.

Doc Heavey answers the madly ringing telephone and announces that it's Doug Stenstrom trying to get in touch with Dot Hillman or Dolly Rutledge to talk over plans for the law school section.

HATTER

The work of the staff is interrupted by frequent visits from distinguished personages who invariably find that they have wandered into the wrong office.

"You can't do that," Business Manager Ernestine Hurlburt says to Sports Editor H. M. Salona. "The budget won't stand it." A lively discussion follows among Stella Davis, Suzanne Davis, and James Stafford, who are drawing up sports pages, and the assistant business manager, Bob Rickey.

Organizations Editor Chris Waldron makes a suggestion which the freshman assistants, Mary Ann Lancaster, Joyce Orr, Pat Roberts, and Martha Brown, hasten to carry out.

Efficient ad-hunters Martha Moon, Lois Newall, Ray Hutchinson, Helen Blount, Agnes Reeser, and Barbara Cox report the total receipts for the day. Whereupon, Pat Sachs breathes a sigh of relief, knowing that those two extra pages she told Mary Mott and Martha Bowen to use for the administration section will be paid for after all.

At last every picture is in place, every word of copy neatly typed, and the group of tired boys and girls go home for a well-earned rest, knowing that THE HATTER has gone to press.

Flo, Chris, and Helen lost hours of sleep getting the book out.

The Stetson Symphony Orchestra had four concerts on campus this year, out-of-town engagements and also appeared in collaboration with other campus musical organizations in presenting the Messiah, an opera and the Commencement concert. Oscar Shumasky, internationally known violinist, came from New York to be guest soloist in two concertos at the December 2nd concert. Professor Harold M. Giffin was tenor soloist in the February concert. In March the Concerto Concert featured a complete program of student performers appearing as soloists with the orchestra. This was a year of "firsts" for the symphony — including its first "Pop" concert, given in May.

Stetson University Glee Clubs

We here present the Glee Clubs, one department of Stetson which is really "going forward," under the excellent direction of "Prof." Harold M. Griffin. This outstanding organization is divided into two sections, the Women's Club, and the Men's Club, singing as separate units and as a mixed chorus. The combined Clubs total 145 members, 85 women and 60 men. Our 52 appearances last year helped us start rolling, and 1947-48 will see us back to pre-war standards. Performances on home territory include Homecoming, "The Messiah," an operetta, our spring concert and Commencement.

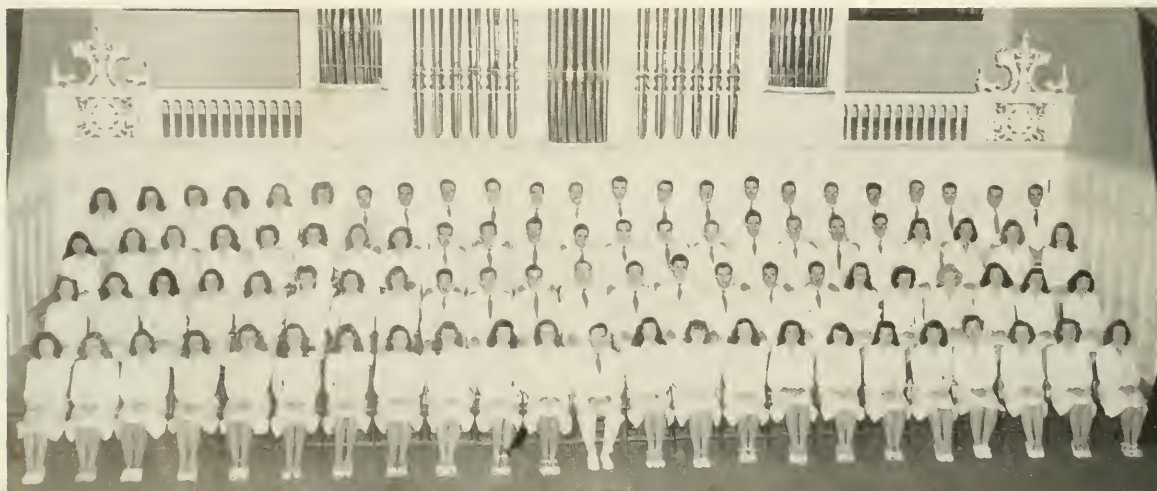

The Travel Squad, numbering 40, is the group which travels, singing concerts for churches, high schools, civic and tourist clubs, hospital wards, etc., throughout the State, from Miami to Pensacola.

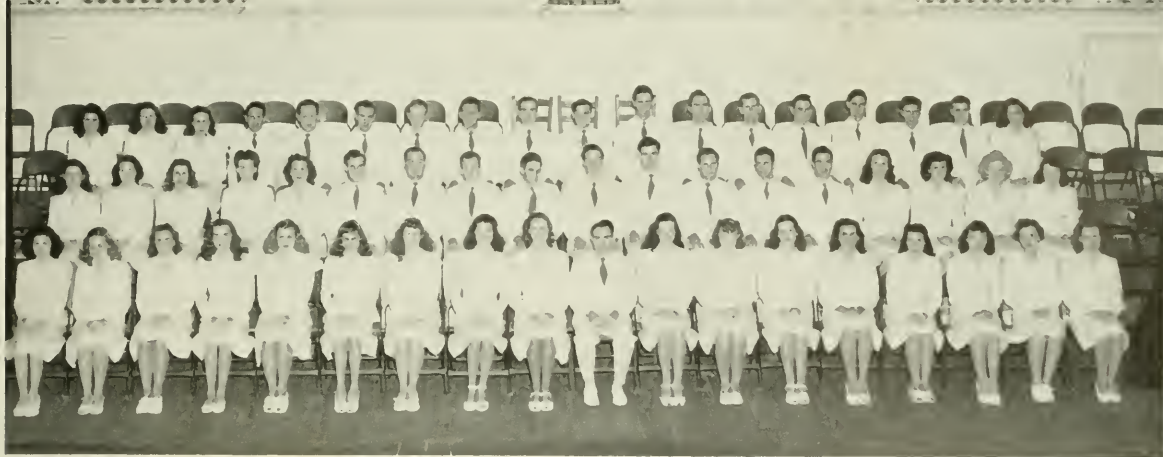

The Radio Chorus, composed of 25 select voices, has in past years, made various appearances on the air, and will continue its radio work, when facilities enable them to do so.

Assistant directors are Ruth M. Richardson, Kay Hooper, and Archie McMillan.

Officers of the Glee Clubs for 1947-48 are:

HAROLD PARSON	General Manager
KAY HOOPER, BOB AUMAN	Student Leaders
WINIFRED DEMIOREST, BILL FLETCHER	Business Managers

*Dear Alma Mater, smile upon thy children!
Gladly we greet thee, altogether lovely;
Peace be within thy classic halls and temples,
Hail, Alma Mater, dear.*

*Hail to the heroes who have gone before us.
Young men and maidens, filled with true devotion!
Bright is their glory, fadeless and undying.
Hail to our heroes gone!*

*Hail to our classmates, bound by ties ne'er broken;
Here once again we pledge our vows of friendship;
Brave hearts and true hearts sound aloud the chorus;
Long live our comrades dear!*

*Dear Alma Mater, tenderly thy children
Gather, and bring to thee gracious salutations;
Comrades, your voices lift once again in chorus
Hail Alma Mater dear!*

Another year at Stetson has drawn to a close. Play is over, competing is finished, clubs change hands. One by one the seniors walk across the stage and solemnly receive their diplomas. Then they go forth to become citizens in the world of tomorrow, knowing that they have been well prepared and are quite ready to face the challenge of the future. And the rest of us stay happily on, till our day comes, in our college world. . . .

As our year ends we pause, remembering its accomplishments and imperfections, knowing that in its afterglow will come tomorrow and other Stetson students to be inspired by our daydreams.

These are our backers — the merchants and businessmen who have helped to make our yearbook possible. We appreciate their interest, their tolerance of us as customers. We will never understand how they put up with us when we tried on all the dresses in their shop and then said "Thank you — just looking," or when we listened to records for hours and couldn't find even one we wanted. They cashed our checks and let us buy things on the installment plan. We owe them a lot. (So do our Dads.)

The background of the entire page is a black and white photograph. The upper two-thirds of the image is dominated by a large, bright, fluffy cloud against a darker sky. The lower third of the image shows dark silhouettes of trees and a building. On the left, there are several rounded tree silhouettes. In the center, a man and a woman are standing and holding hands, their figures silhouetted against the lighter sky. To their right is a single, more detailed tree silhouette. Further right, the silhouette of a building with a small dome or cupola is visible. The overall mood is romantic and elegant.
